Abstract

After independence of India state and central government both are working to improve condition of women literacy. India's Constitution guarantees free primary school education for both boys and girls up to age 14 (Article 21-A). Women education in India has also been a major preoccupation of both the government and civil society as educated women can play a very important role in the development of the country. Education is important for everyone, but it is especially significant for girls and women.

Even after all governmental and civil societies' efforts, there are some barriers to achieve goal of Girl/women Education. Several Economic, social factors and weak government implementing system has derived hindrance in girl education mission. It well knows fact that education bring in positive change at the individual and societal level. Through well formulated strategy and program for girls' education, empowerment and healthy. We can unleash the potential of girls to transform their own lives as well as empowered also. Education is one of the most important tool/factor, to empowering women with the knowledge, skills and self-confidence to participate actively in the political, economical and development process.

Women constitute almost half of the population in the world. But the hegemonic masculine ideology made them suffer a lot as they were denied equal opportunities in different parts of the world. The rise of feminist ideas has, however, led to the tremendous improvement of women's condition throughout the world in recent times. Access to education has been one of the most pressing demands of theses women's rights movements.

After independence of India state and central government both are working to improve condition of women literacy. India's Constitution guarantees free primary school education for both boys and girls up to age 14 (Article 21-A). Women education in India has also been a
