

A Study of Madhyasth Darshan (Jivan Vidhya): And Understading Values (Feelings) in Relationships

Dr. Mrinalini kumari*

ABSTRACT:

This paper aims to study of philosophy of madhyasth darshan and its concepts about relationships and values (feelings) in relationships. This is a conceptual paper in which author has tried to study the basic concepts of relationships and values (feelings) in relationships. Which may be used by organizations for healthy interpersonal relationships or relationships management.

Key Words: Values Madhyasth darshan, Relationships. Etc.

Introduction

What is Madhyasth darshan

A. Nagraj (1920–2016) developed a new knowledge system or philosophy (darshan) known as Jeevan Vidya' or Madhyasth Darshan (coexistential philosophy, saha-astitva-vad) in India that goes beyond preexisting frameworks and is independent of prior or present human ideas.

It explains the beginnings, existence, and exact relationship between matter and the conscious (spirit and mind), which has significant ramifications for all of us humans.

It is useful and teachable, leading to personal fulfillment, tranquility, etc., and compassionate qualities like kindness.

It gives us a comprehensive answer to our present ecological, social, family, and personal issues, enabling us to make meaning of life. It makes it possible for us to understand all facets of reality and human existence.

Originally from Hassan, Karnataka, the late shri A Nagraj of Amarkantak, india,

Ph.D From Department of Management Faculty of Social Sciences Dayalbagh Educational Institute (Deemed University) Dayalbagh Agra—282002 e-mail: mrinalini_k@yahoo.com*